

Summer moon

By: Corabelle Tally

Summer air and summer stars

The moon contains all that we are

A world full of life and a world full of warmth

In the heart of the kind fibers of our soul

Laughter will fill the air of our minds

All that will be left is what we have left behind

Flying past the boundaries of our soul

We cry out to God in and amongst the summer moon